- + Drive demand for public transit
- + Offer programs that decrease single occupancy vehicle trips
- + Reduce greenhouse gas emissions
- + Save commuters time and money
- + Leverage private and institutional investments in transportation
- + Reduce traffic and climate impact of new developments

TMAs Today

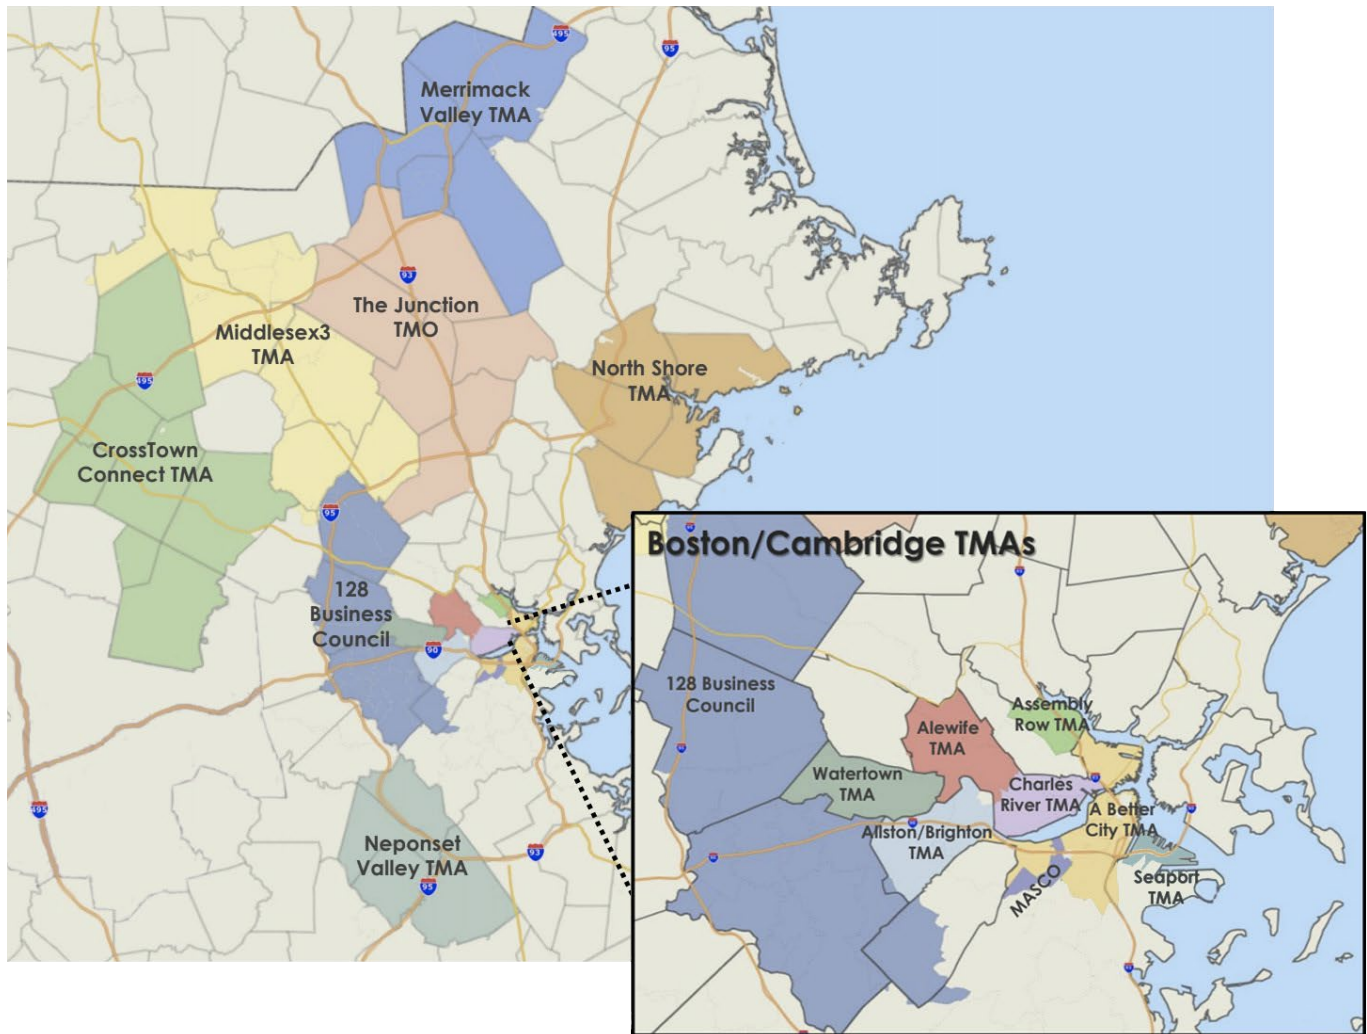

Transportation Management Associations (TMAs) are public-private partnerships established in specific geographic areas to provide and promote transportation options that target drive alone commuters. TMAs work to reduce traffic congestion, improve air quality, and support economic development. This is accomplished by implementing programs such as first/last mile shuttle services, facilitating carpools and vanpools, and incentivizing commute modes including transit and biking/walking to work. The unique value of TMAs is their ability to bring multiple stakeholders together, address local needs, and encourage long-term behavior changes among commuters.

MassCommute

A coalition of 15 Massachusetts-based TMAs, MassCommute provides a forum for TMAs to collaborate on and advocate for shared transportation initiatives that benefit the Commonwealth.
